

Jacob P. Stenstrom - Department of Economics, University of Pittsburgh

CONTACT INFORMATION

University of Pittsburgh (703) 872-9728
Department of Economics jps220@pitt.edu
4900 Wesley H. Posvar Hall
Pittsburgh, PA 15260

EDUCATION

University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA [2023-Present]
Ph.D. Student in Economics, Expected May 2029
Interests - Economic History, Political Economy

Boston University, Boston, MA [2021-2022]
M.A. in Economic Policy

Rochester Institute of Technology, Rochester, NY [2015-2018]
B.S. in Economics

RESEARCH

Publications

History of Machinery and Political Cartoons, Proceedings of New York State Economics Association Conference, Volume 11, pgs 7-17

Working Papers

Who Framed Upton Sinclair? Lessons on Film's Influence from the 1934 California Gubernatorial Election

Sampling Into Significance with: Sonia Ale, Huda Osman, Shafique Islam, and Lester Lusher

Something (New) To Talk About: Social Spillovers in Movie Consumption with: Lester Lusher

Works in Progress

Spatial Effect of TV Show Popularity on Choice of Major with: Huda Osman

Generational Effects of Occupational Sorting During the Exclusion Era

Presentations

Applied Microeconomic Brown Bag, University of Pittsburgh (2025, 2026)
NYSEA Annual Conference (2018)

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Main Instructor, University of Pittsburgh
-Introduction to Macroeconomic Theory [Summer 2026]

Teaching Assistant/Grader, University of Pittsburgh
-Economics Data Analysis [Spring 2025, Spring 2026]
-Introductory Microeconomics [Fall 2025]
-Introductory Macroeconomics [Fall 2024]

Teaching Assistant, Boston University
-Intermediate Macroeconomics [Fall 2022]

EMPLOYMENT AND EXPERIENCE

Center for Regional Economic Competitiveness

- Research Analyst [2023]
- Consultant [2021-2022]
- Research Assistant [2019-2021]

IRS: Criminal Investigation

- Student Volunteer [2018]

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Graduate Student Mentor

University of Pittsburgh [2024-Present]

SKILLS

R/RStudio, STATA, Python, Tableau, LATEX, SPSS